YWCA Tulsa and Daybreak Café Present FREE OMELETE DAY

Tulsa, Okla. – Daybreak Café will be offering free omelets to any and every one from 7 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. on Friday, November 12, 2021 at 8178 S Lewis Ave.

Daybreak Café will be collecting donations to support YWCA Tulsa's programming including, Health Equity and Wellness for women and their families at their two fitness centers, and Immigrant and Refugee Services. YWCA is also preparing to support Afghan families arriving to Tulsa this fall by providing employment services and support, translation services, and English classes.

YWCA Tulsa CEO Julie Davis says she values the support of Tulsa's business community.

"We are so thankful to Daybreak Café for reaching out to us with this creative opportunity to raise money for our programs," YWCA Tulsa CEO Julie Davis said. "Thank you, Daybreak Café, for being a part of our community, we could not do this work without your support and encouragement."

Daybreak Café Owner Bill Safer says Daybreak Café is excited to help.

"Today our communities are facing an unprecedented time of need and challenges," Safer said. "Unfortunately, the women and children are suffering the greatest of these losses. Thankfully the YWCA is structured to provide a majority of their assistance and support to help our women and children. We at Daybreak Café are blessed to help make these families lives filled with Love and Joy."

YWCA Tulsa has been a part of Tulsa for almost as long as Tulsa has been incorporated as a city. Since the organization's inception in 1914, hundreds of thousands of Tulsans and visitors to our community have found a haven for advice and training, and a gathering place to see friends and meet new people. YWCA is on a mission to eliminate racism, empower women and promote peace, freedom, dignity and justice for all.
